

Odie arrived at Stoxen Library on a quiet Tuesday during the week of Spring Break. Nonetheless, within minutes of his arrival he made a friend to explore the world with...

and play chess with.

The next day, Odie helped water the plants.

Odie pedaled two miles on the FitDesk while studying Plato.

He learned about the digital library at the TR Center.

Then he got lost in the landscapes of Theodore Roosevelt's world.

Finally, Odie took a break on a big bean bag and checked his messages on his smart phone.

Thanks for visiting Stoxen Library, Odie!

Stair Monitor Lord [Signature]